THE ENGINE HOUSE BEXLEY

CASE STUDY

THE ENGINE HOUSE BEXLEY

InVentry provides The Engine House Bexley with a solution that seamlessly integrates with their Paxton access control system whilst capturing sign in data across multiple entrance points.

THE CHALLENGE

Home to multiple businesses, The Engine House Bexley were looking for a simple electronic sign in solution that would enable their reception team to securely welcome visitors and contractors into the building. The solution also needed to ensure visitors were linked to the correct company upon signing in. To improve efficiency across their building, they also needed a solution that would seamlessly link to their current Paxton access control system – whilst also capturing sign in data of clients and employees across multiple entrance and exit points.

THE SOLUTION

With InVentry's Multi-Tenant feature, we were able to provide a professional and efficient sign in and visitor management solution that would also enable the centre to monitor both visitor and client behaviour with great ease. This feature has also gave them the ability to accurately monitor their clients' personnel and guests whilst separating this data from the building's day-to-day visitors and contractors.

With the option to also share site documents such as health and safety guidelines and fire evacuation policies with visitors and contractors before they arrive on-site, the centre has been able to ensure they have effective measures in place to provide a safe environment for all guests.

Having the ability to track visitors and staff arrivals at multiple entrance points was another key component for The Engine House Bexley, when looking for a sign in solution. With a Paxton system already installed, the centre needed the ability to record sign in activity from their P50 card readers via one centralised database. Through InVentry's integration with Paxton, they were able to provide just that.

CASE STUDY

WOODS FOODSERVICE

InVentry's visitor management system helps Wood Foodservice to obtain their Grade AA BRC accreditation.

THE CHALLENGE

Woods Foodservice needed to accurately track staff working hours, improve health and safety as well as the ability to streamline their payroll processes. The company had also been trying to achieve a BRC accreditation for quite some time and needed to be 100% GDPR compliant to do so.

THE SOLUTION

InVentry has given Woods Foodservice the ability to run multiple detailed reports on all staff and visitors as well as making their visitor sign in procedure completely paperless and GDPR compliant. Shaun Frost, Assistant Logistics Manager at Woods Foodservice says "visitors like having all information available to them on one screen. All of our visitor policies and procedures are now available to view, upon signing into the building, and a health questionnaire is available to complete in one place rather than having it spread across multiple sheets of paper."

InVentry also helped Woods Foodservice secure a Grade AA BRC accreditation, something that they had been trying to achieve before introducing InVentry into their business. It also allowed them to offer custom questions to all visitors to gather needed information, before entering the building.

The staff at Woods Foodservice like that InVentry is easy to use. One scan of their card and they can sign in and out, quickly and easily. InVentry also allows the business to accurately track working hours which gives them an extra level of safety brought by knowing who is in the building at any time in the event of an emergency.
